Reframing Memory: Vintage Photographs Reimagined

ANNAPOLIS ROYAL, Nova Scotia (March 19, 2026) – ARTSPLACE Gallery is pleased to present “Snapshots: Vintage Photos Revisited,” an exhibition by Tony Clark in the Library Gallery from March 28 to April 11, 2026.

The exhibition revisits and reimagines a collection of found photographs gathered from garage sales and antique stores. Spanning from the 1860s to the mid-20th century, the images include daguerreotypes, tintypes, and informal family snapshots. Clark presents these original photographs alongside transformed works that incorporate transfer processes, collage, overpainting, and enlargement.

“Through layered interventions, the artist reinterprets familiar visual histories, inviting viewers to reconsider ideas of family, memory, and the evolving significance of photographic records,” said Sophie Paskins, Gallery Director.

Clark’s practice is informed by a background in commercial art and formal training in serigraphy at the University of Toronto. His process emphasizes layering, drawing from printmaking techniques where successive applications build complex surfaces. The work is created in layers, by printing one colour on top of another, this coupled with collage makes the final work.

Educated at Northern Secondary School in Toronto, the Ontario College of Art, and the University of Toronto, Clark also completed teacher training at the University of Ottawa. His career includes the development of arts programming for seniors in long-term care, working with individuals experiencing dementia and physical disabilities in partnership with the Red Cross and Veterans Affairs Canada.

After a decade in Nova Scotia focused on studio work, this exhibition marks Clark’s return to public presentation. The works range in tone from playful to contemplative, reflecting on shared human experience through the lens of the past.

Tony Clark’s “Snapshots: Vintage Photos Revisited” opening reception, Sat. March 28, 2026, 12-2 p.m. Light refreshments served, all welcome. Exhibition continues through April 11.
